

Looking through the first window, the goldfish sees the Princess at her mirror. She works at making herself look Royal for the upcoming day.

The goldfish ponders how best to honor the lady's beauty, grace, or dedication

(1)

<http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-sa/3.0>

At the second window the goldfish observes the Princess in the dungeon. She brings food to weak & wretched prisoners

The goldfish ponders how best to honor the lady's Mercy, kindness, compassion

(2)

If a goldfish can do it, then so can you! Put a woman from history or your own love for replayability!

Imagine this: A man, sitting, stirring his morning coffee the day before Valentine's day, pondering how to write his lady love the perfect love letter. His eyes wander, from the page, to the goldfish in his bowl. Watching his goldfish drift around its little castle, a romantic "story" of sorts. Here, you will play the part of the goldfish, as he observes the Princess, through the windows of the castle, & attempts to write the perfect letter in:

From a tower window she shows the Princess looking out over her kingdom, with a steely look in her eyes.

(3)

The goldfish ponders how best to honor the lady's ambition, dedication, longing

From the court room window, the goldfish sees the lady ruling over her subjects.

The goldfish ponders how best to honor the lady's Justice, morality, or mercy

(4)

By the hearth, our goldfish sees the lady preparing a meal. Sitting in front of a crackling fire, he wonders then, how to honor the lady's loyalty, skill, or warmth

(5)